

Tendering and Procurement Practice

A Rolling Programme

The TaPP Course is offered on a "rolling programme" basis. The maximum number of students in each group is eight. Therefore, in principle, we are able to start a new course when eight people have registered with us.

As the programme requires an induction followed by eight telephone conferences held at three weekly intervals when students register they are able to choose from a set of next available course dates. This means that courses will commence on a weekly basis throughout the Autumn of 2009 and into Spring of 2010. Currently three courses are fully booked. We plan to offer the course for between 20 and 40 groups during the year. Please look at the "Course Information" leaflet which can be found by clicking on the top document downloads link above to find full details of content and the learning outcomes and delivery.

Registration for the course is already brisk so we plan to publish the start dates and times for the next three courses here at the end of this week. We have allowed an initial 3 month lead time to enable potential students to apply for grant funding from the Leadership and Management Programme. When the programme has begun, course starts with shorter lead times will be possible.
